SUNDAY NEXT 1st OCTOBER
Feast fo St. Thérèse of the Child Jesus.
Therese was born in France in 1873. She lived for ten years as a Carmelite nun. She never went on missions, or founded a religious order. A book was published after her death—a brief version of her journal called "The Story of a Soul". Within 28 years of her death the public demand was so great that she was canonized. Generations of Catholics have admired this young saint, calling her the "Little Flower", and found in her short life more inspiration for their own lives than in volumes by theologians. You are all invited to bring a rose with you to Mass on Monday October 2nd when all roses will be blessed.

DCU Age Friendly University is organising an event for older adults and senior learners Friday, September 29th.
A "Taste of DCU" For Mature Learners and Older Adults
Dublin City University, the world's first designated Age Friendly University would like to welcome you to a "Taste of DCU" on Friday, September 29th, 9.30am to 4pm in the Henry Grattan Building on our Glasnevin Campus. The day will feature a wide range of lectures, workshops, and campus tours, and offers a fantastic opportunity for mature learners and older adults to find out about the many opportunities available in DCU to learn something new, and to experience the benefits of active and healthy ageing. This is a FREE event .
To register, please contact: Christine O'Kelly, Age Friendly Co-ordinator.
